Sabrina,

I copied Michael Berkoff on this as he is in charge of Allied Landfill. I think the write-up is okay, however, I think we are still over a year from completing design and it might be another 2-5 years after that until the site is ready for reuse. Michael can clarify that.

Thanks

Dear Jim,

EPA Headquarters is planning to release a list of sites with greatest potential for redevelopment during the first week of January. Your site, Allied Paper Mill/Portage Creek/Kalamazoo River (focus on Allied Paper Landfill and Panalyte properties), is on the current draft of that list.

As part of the communication strategy for the list's release to the public, EPA's Superfund Redevelopment Initiative has drafted site readiness for reuse fact sheets and is requesting regional review and comments no later than Wednesday, January 3, 2018.

We understand that this is a very quick turnaround, especially with many people out for the holidays. Your help meeting this deadline is greatly appreciated.

Please REPLY ALL to ensure that we can reply to any questions and incorporate comments in a timely manner.

Also, if you have any photos we can use of the site, we would be happy to add them. We have lots of images of the Plainwell portion of the site, but not the Allied Landfill area.

Many thanks!
 Sabrina
